

Title: Kilumi Dance – Kikamba Traditional Music and Dance(english abstract)

Jina: Nancy Mwendu Mulwa

Nambari ya Usajili: C027-01-1027/20220

Kozi: BBIT 4.2

Kilumi is a traditional Kikamba music and dance performed during cultural ceremonies and community gatherings. This art form is an important aspect of Kikamba culture because it preserves historical stories, strengthens social bonds, and promotes communal values. Kilumi is performed using traditional instruments such as drums, rattles, and stringed instruments, while dancers move rhythmically to convey stories, emotions, and social messages.

The performance also reflects gender roles in Kikamba society. Men and women have distinct roles in the dance: men often lead vigorous movements and play drums, while women participate in coordinated dance patterns and singing. Understanding these roles highlights the importance of gender awareness, equality, and respect within African communities.

Kilumi continues to play a vital role in modern society by maintaining cultural identity, fostering unity, and educating younger generations about their heritage. Promoting such cultural expressions ensures that Kikamba music and dance remain a living tradition and contributes to the broader appreciation of African cultural diversity.